'G' STREET LOGICAL PLACE FOR BUILDING

SECTION BOUND TO GROW.

G. W. Developing as City College and Present Site Convenient, Says Hodgkins.

According to President Hodgkins, this is the most logical and suitable site for erecting the G. W. U. buildings. Although various sites have been looked at, the trustees believe that this is the most desirable.

Chancellor Clark of the American University, believes that this section of the city is the most logical educational center in the city, because of its convenience to both day students and part-time students.

The Government is buying up the lands south of Pennsylvania Avenue between Eighteenth and Twenty-first Streets, for future Government buildings, and there can be no doubt of the progress of this section in the future.

Part-time students make up the greater portion of the student body of G. W. U., and these part-time students are mainly Government employees. Many of the Government buildings are located about the Mall, which is within easy walking distance of the University, and this makes the present site very convenient for the part-time students.

Charles Moore, chairman of the Fine Arts Commission, claims that there can be no doubt of the development of this part of the city. He says that the section west of Seventeenth Street between Pennsylvania Avenue, extending toward Rock Creek Park, is bound to develop into a finer and better section as years pass. The plans for building driveways between Potomac and Rock Creek Parks, and the driveway to Arlington, which will pass through this section, assure the artistic development of this part of the city.

"G. W. U. is developing as a big city college," says President Hodgkins, "and I am firmly convinced that the present site is the most suitable for the new buildings."

"The proximity of the school to the present Government buildings makes it very convenient for part-time students, and the improved street-car service brings it within easy access of the day students."

ENGINEERS' BASEBALL SQUAD WILL ORGANIZE

The Engineering baseball men will begin practicing very soon. Everybody interested should make application to Manager Mitchell, at the Engineering School. Pitchers are wanted; these men realized the need of a baseball team, and consequently as soon as a good start is made, many games will be played with outside teams. It's up to everyone "to help the cause along" and show their interest to the best of their ability.

SOUTH ATLANTIC MEET

The South Atlantic Meet for girl swimmers will be held at the Baltimore Y. W. C. A. on April 14. All girls interested, whether on the team or not, should register their names on the Bulletin Board in Lisner Hall.

Students Dropped for Failure In Semester Examinations

A number of University students in all departments were dropped as a result of unfavorable grades in the semester examinations. The number this year is greater than it has ever been before, according to Dean Wilbur of Columbian College.

Students are notified that, although there are no definite rules as the dropping of students from the University records, cases of deficiency will be reported to the dean and action taken.

Dean Hodgkins is fully in favor of even stricter measures in the future. "Too many people are skimming through college without keeping up the scholastic standard of the school. The University has been forced to drop the names of certain students because they have shown that they have no real desire to be students here."

It is generally believed that the new strictness will not be modified in the

REPORTERS, PLEASE NOTE

The "deadline" for "Hatchet" copy has been moved up a day. Instead of having all news in by Wednesday night, it must now be in by Tuesday night. Meetings which take place Tuesday night may be written up and turned in by Wednesday noon at the latest. This rule will have no exceptions which are not necessary.

PLAYERS SELECT PLAYS FOR SPRING PRESENTATION

Three One Act Dramas Make up Program—Cast Announced Soon.

Three one-act plays have been chosen by the G. W. Players to constitute their annual spring presentation. They are "Suppressed Desires," "Moonshine," and "Where but in America?"

The first, by Susan Glaspell, is an amusing story of a woman who gets took with the fad of psycho-analysis, and is finally cured by a combination of husband, sister, and circumstances. "Moonshine" is a different kind of play, in which the chief actor is a revenue agent who goes up in the mountains in search of excitement and moonshine. He gets both. As for "Where but in America?" the name tells much, but the play tells more, and is guaranteed to be a thriller.

Try-outs for the casts of the plays have been held on two evenings. Considerable competition has come up in each of the several parts. The final choice will be announced soon by Dorothea Stevens, president of the association. Annette Steele will direct the production.

INTERFRATERNITY PROM APRIL 5TH AT CITY CLUB

The Interfraternity Council announced that the Interfraternity Prom will be held at the City Club, Thursday, April 5th, ten until two.

Bernstein's Orchestra has been engaged, and extremely attractive and novel programs have been secured by the committee.

In order to make certain that the Prom will be a success from every standpoint, it was decided to make it exclusive, and the council ruled that only persons belonging to fraternities who are affiliated with the Interfraternity Council will be admitted. No money will be accepted at the door. All persons desiring to purchase tickets can obtain them from the delegate. This had better be done at once, as a limited number have been printed.

One of the councilmen stated: "Every fraternity man knows what times have been had at former Proms. Expect the best that a Prom can give and you will not be disappointed."

PLANS FOR PAN-HELLENIC DANCE COMPLETED

Plans have been completed to have the Pan-Hellenic dance at Wardman Park, Thursday, April 13. Dancing will be from 9 p. m. until 1 a. m., with Meyer Davis Orchestra officiating. Attractive favors and clever programs are promised.

All sorority girls in the city affiliated with out-of-town sororities are invited to attend. They should see Mary Ruthven, secretary of Pan-Hellenic Association and make arrangements to attend.

least after this semester. Dean Wilbur holds the belief that such a measure has been needed for some time. "This is in pursuance of a policy," he says, "which will be followed with increasing severity in the future. We are only safeguarding our students by striking from our records people who were never really there. Our purpose is to clean out our student body until we have only those left who are willing to do the required work."

Dean Wilbur wishes to have the students know that they are expected to pass the majority of the subjects they carry unless there is adequate reason for their not being able to do so. They are also likely to receive an "E" in any subject in which they have "out" an examination. This measure is expected to spur on the students to more strenuous endeavors in the scholarship line.

DEBATE ON KANSAS COURT AT 'Y' TONIGHT

DEBATE AT PENN STATE.

Negative Team Will Debate With Penn State Team in Pennsylvania.

That the principle underlying the Kansas Court of Industrial Relations should be extended throughout the country will be argued by the affirmative team of the University Debating organization in the auditorium of the Young Men's Christian Association, 1726 G Street, on Friday night, March 16, at 8:15 p. m., in competition with the debaters from the University of Pittsburgh.

This debate is the first of the intercollegiate season, and it is the desire of those in charge that the student body be well represented. "B" cards of the Student Activity Tax will be accepted as admission.

The negative team of the same organization will meet the team of the Penn State University the same night in Pennsylvania. The negative team is composed of—Oscar Zabel, James Steven, and Hubert Steed.

ANNUAL ATHLETIC DINNER AT MADRILLON TONIGHT

Gold Footballs and Basketballs Will be Awarded the Team Members.

The Annual Athletic banquet of the G. W. athletes will be held at the Madrillon, at 8 p. m. to-night.

After the respective seasons of football and basketball the men who worked so hard will look for a time of relaxation and festivals. This is the Festival Supreme. Diets and training hours are things that will not feature.

But the reason for all this feasting and good time is that just rewards will be made to the deserving athletes. To twenty men there will be awarded gold miniature footballs and basketballs, together with sweaters and numerals. In addition to this Bryan Morse and Daniel L. Borden, will also attend.

The banquet will be decidedly informal, even the flouted formal speeches will be put aside. In its place will shine equally bright a spirit of democracy with the motto of a good time for all always.

PORTRAIT WILL BE GIVEN AT COLUMBIAN RECEPTION

All Columbian Women Invited to Tea March 20.

A portrait of the late Mrs. Nellie Maynard Knapp, former president of the Columbian Women, will be presented to the club by Mrs. Charles L. Kellogg at a reception given by President and Mrs. Hodgkins at their home, 1821 Kalorama Road, next Tuesday, March 20, from 8 to 11 p. m.

Mrs. Knapp was the wife of the late Judge Knapp, a trustee of the University, whose sister, Mrs. Charles L. Kellogg, is giving the portrait. Owing to Mrs. Kellogg being in Syracuse at present, Mrs. D. Kerfoot Shute will formally present the portrait on her behalf to the club. It will be accepted by the president, Mrs. John T. Erwin.

Members of the club and their escorts will be cordially received by Mrs. Hodgkins. All are invited to be present.

CHEM CLUB TO DANCE

The George Washington Chemical Club will have a dance March 22, at 2400 Sixteenth Street N. W. Good music is promised. Nothing, however, has been said about refreshments. The chairman promises that every one will have a good time. He even said it was a money-back guarantee. By the way, tickets sell for $2.

NOTICE!

From now on Foot Prints will be biographies of instructors.

WILL REPEAT "CHARM SCHOOL" TWICE AT GARRICK THEATRE

Success of Premiere Causes Management of Play to Arrange For Additional Performances—Date Announced as Shortly After Easter.

DEAN WILBUR EXPRESSES APPRECIATION OF PLAY.

Excellent Work of Cast Under Direction of Bill Becker and Len Hall Outstanding Feature of Play—All Deserve Credit From the Ushers to the Leads.

The "Charm School" again! Twice!

That's hot news. The success of the Junior Play, presented in the Auditorium of the New Masonic Temple last Saturday night, has caused the management of the production to negotiate for the Garrick Theatre, some time in April.

The plans, according to present status, call for the repeating of the play on a Monday and Tuesday night, following Easter. The Garrick Theatre will afford an excellent place for the play, inasmuch as all the materials for a good show are there. The theatre will furnish a stage and house staff.

Bryan Morse, Director of Student Activities, has approved the plans, and they are being completed as rapidly as possible. Announcement will be made, possibly next week.

MATCH WITH COLUMBIA OPENS TENNIS SEASON

Universities of High Standing Appear on Schedule—Dean Miller, Coach.

The George Washington tennis teams will have a full season, according to a schedule given out by Bernard Viens, manager of tennis. The season opens April 3rd, when Columbia University is scheduled to meet George Washington here.

Although the schedule as announced is not yet complete, it will include matches with such other teams as Georgetown, V. M. I., the Naval Academy, Catholic University, Lehigh University, and other schools of equally high standing.

Owing to the fact that it has not been possible to secure outdoor courts which could be utilized, no regular practices have been held to select men for the team.

Dean Miller, Dean of the Engineering College, is coaching the tennis squad this year. He has held several meetings for prospective players, at which he has discussed the theories and principles of the game, which have been well attended. Coach Miller realizes that "there are tricks in all trades," and his experience has taught him that tennis is no exception. "The practice period before the regular season starts," said Dean Miller, "will necessarily be short, and these meetings will mean much when practice starts."

It has not yet been possible to make definite arrangements for outdoor courts for practice, according to Coach Miller, but temporary plans have been made to secure the Dumbarton Club courts for the home matches.

One trip has been scheduled for the George Washington tennis team the first week in May. The team will be composed of four men, and possibly accompanied during the latter part of the trip by Dean Miller. Games will be played with the University of Delaware at Newark, May 2nd, with Columbia University at New York, May 3rd, with Swarthmore at Swarthmore, May 4th, and with Lehigh at Bethlehem, May 5th.

The schedule as announced by Manager Viens is as follows:

Columbia University, April 3, here.

Catholic University, April 11, here (pending).

Naval Academy, April 14, Annapolis.

Johns Hopkins University, April 27, here.

University of Delaware, May 2, Newark.

Columbia University, May 3, New York.

Swarthmore College, May 4, Swarthmore.

Lehigh University, May 5, Bethlehem.

Georgetown University, May 9, Georgetown.

Catholic University, May 11, here (pending).

Virginia Military Institute, May 15, here (pending).

Washington and Lee University, May 17, here (pending).

Dates for practice have not been arranged, but definite announcement will be made as soon as possible. Any one who can play tennis or who is interested in tennis is asked to come out for practice.

The outstanding feature of the play, according to all present, was the excellent work of the cast. After the arduous eight-week rehearsal, the play was run with a smoothness unusual to an amateur performance.

The first curtain went up promptly at 8:20 and the final curtain came down at 10:50. This is an excellent compliment for the students connected with the performance.

All credit is due to William Becker and Leonard Hall, who directed the play. Credit is also due to the members of the cast and to the Junior Play Committee, headed by Henry James, and composed of Mildred Von Eitz, Janeiro Brooks, and Theresa Lawrence.

Dean William Allen Wilbur, of Columbian College, has voiced his appreciation of the efforts of the players. His letter:

I accept very gratefully the opportunity to express appreciation of the junior play, "The Charm School," presented at the Masonic Auditorium on Saturday evening, March 10, produced under the management of the Junior Play Committee, of which Mr. James was chairman; and under the immediate direction of Mr. William S. Becker and Mr. Leonard Hall, and with a cast of university students. The audience was sympathetic and their enjoyment of the play was obvious. I think all of the young people of the cast must have felt that they were playing to their friends.

The Little Theater in the College is a part of the spontaneous student activities of college life. It has the interest and value of originality and aptitude and efficiency. The faculty has nothing to do with it except to enjoy it. I experienced "The Charm School" on Saturday night, and since then I am seeing the "Greek God" and the adoring girls and the demonstrated impressiveness of masculine authority.

This junior play has a good deal of the real thing. The inseparable relations of art and life touched a sympathetic audience. I would mention especially the leading lady, Miss Dorothy Bartley, and Mr. Foster Hagan. I was charmed by them all, but they are all safe with Mr. Hall, who handles the publicity in a fascinating way, and with Mr. Becker, who adds professional atmosphere and experience to the presentation.

The college play is more impressive, because it does not take itself too seriously—on the stage and off the stage it is a lark. It is a part of the comedy of college life, a phase of its fellowship. If we could have these affairs oftener in the college, we should not lack morale. It would not hurt the University a bit if occasionally the University might seem to us as adorable as the "Greek God" to "The Charm School."

I have noted among college people that the things they always remember are the personal phases of college associations. I would express my appreciation to Mr. Becker and all of his associates of the cast of "The Charm School," and of the Junior Class. There are many pleasant things about "The Charm School" that I shall gladly remember.

William A. Wilbur.

Y. W. TO ELECT OFFICERS. Officers will be elected at the next meeting of the Y. W. C. A., March 18, at 12:30, in the Lisner Hall Chapel. All girls are urged to be present.

We Want More Like It

Congratulations!

Good work, Junior Play Cast. The least that can be said is that it was a splendid show.

Lucky Mr. Bevins. Poor George. Both played their parts excellently. George is to be especially complimented on the exit he made as the heartbroken and deserted suitor for the hand of Elise.

Elise Benedotti, as the love-sick little boarding school girl, was superb. Flowers passed over the footlights, testifying to that.

On the other hand, the management deserves credit for having produced the first financially successful show in the history of the school.

Both the directors can point to the show with pride. It was their work and patience that made "The Charm School" the success it was. Leonard Hall receives the thanks of the entire school for devoting his time to the production merely on account of his regard for George Washington University.

Misinterpreted

Several days ago a local paper printed a story about alcohol in the Medical School of this University, the basis of which was found in the Razz Berry, satirical sheet of Pi Delta Epsilon. The charges were not true, as shown by the subsequent denial of them by the President. A letter to this effect from the President was later published in that paper.

Intended as a satirical sheet, the aim of the Razz Berry is to correct the erring ways of college students. Its tone is essentially jocular, and the stories published in it are known by the students to be greatly exaggerated and even lacking any basis of facts in some cases.

Misunderstanding the purpose of that sheet this local paper printed the story with no intent to mar the good name of George Washington. On the other hand, this same publication has given this school more beneficial publicity than any other paper in town.

Debate Tonight

George Washington's debating team will meet Penn State College and Pittsburgh University to-night. One section will debate the affirmative side of the Kansas Industrial Court Question against Pittsburgh here at the Y. M. C. A. Another section will go to the Pennsylvania State College and argue the negative side of the same question there.

Little is known about the merits of the team at this time, because this is their first contest. It is expected, however, that G. W. will make a good showing. This conclusion is drawn from the fact that a number of men from last year's team are still participating.

While it will be impossible for students to go to Penn State to urge our men on, it will be possible for them to witness the debate here. A George Washington audience goes a long way toward sharpening the wits of a George Washington debating team.

Stupid Steve's Kolum

A prominent member of the Chi Omega who engages in athletics and wears a Delt pin, but whose name we won't mention, got all excited last week talking to Doug Clephane, because she had been told that he was Dick McPherson, the campus Sheik.

Did you see Earle after the Prom? We did.

Sweeney says parlor gymnastics are usually played with Dumb-belles.

A pledge of a more or less prominent frat, located on "N" Street, near Eighteenth, and without a reputation for sobriety, was seen at a disreputable dancing place up town recently. He sure was showing the cackles how to cake. We won't give his name, but it ain't an uncommon name and there have been several sets of blood brothers in the chapter with similar names.

Shiek Marquis has it all over the rest of 'em, because the wimmen have to go in and talk to him.

Prof. Hill (in political science): "Miss Begg, what are the qualifications for membership in the National House of Representatives?"

Eleanor: "I don't know, but my dad's got 'em."

THE SPY

President.

Next week is a split-week at the President. On Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday nights, the St. Patrick Players will present "The Passion Play," and the Presidents will resume "The Meanest Man in the World" the last of the week. This is a Cohan comedy with Cohan written all over it. It is a stock plot retold with Cohan variations and offers an amusing evening.

Garrick.

There is no definite announcement of an attraction for next week at the Garrick, but the probability is that the present attraction, delayed in opening this week, will be held over.

National.

Next week the National hands us another laugh treat, when Jack Donahue joins our party with his sweet "Molly Darling." This musical comedy made a regular hit in New York early in the season, and comes to us intact. The chorus is featured and contains some honest-to-heavens beautiful girls. Let's go.

Poll's.

The devil-man, George Arlis, brings his latest success to town Monday. This excellent stage and screen artist comes to us this time in "The Green Goddess." The play is one of the few that has made the provinces sit up and take notice. It is good.

This Week.

President—George Barnes becomes Wanda's lover this week, and it is rumored that there is great jealousy on the part of one local dramatic critic. The play is Cohan's "The Meanest Man in the World," and contains the usual Cohan humorous touches.

Garrick—The Garrick is having trouble, but Tom Wise is with us in "Three Live Fools." The presentation is in the approved Wise manner, and the rest of the company is in support.

National—Classics! Robert Mantell here with a series of Shakespearean plays. Little need be said of the excellence of this proven master of the stage art.

Poll's—Eleanor Painter and Jose Rubens in an insouciant play of the French Revolution, "The Exile," by Sidney Toler. Things happen just as they are needed to save the hero, and it is altogether a poor play.

Belasco—Hopwood's "Demi-Virgin" is here, but the police are still unmoved. Negligee, Klieg lights, and movie paraphernalia decorate the stage. Funny comedy and an eye treat. Pretty girls predominate, with Hazel Dawn leading the gang.

Pick Ups

C. Laemmle, president of the Universal Pictures Corporation, announced on Thursday the establishment of a scholarship of $2,500 and upward for undergraduates in American colleges and universities in competitive scenario writing. It is said that students of a large number of institutions will enter the competition.

Scenarios will be carefully judged on merit and the award will be $1,000 to the author plus and indeterminate amount of not less than $500 for screen rights, and $1,000 endowment to the institution in which the winner is a student. Scenarios should be forwarded not later than May 15 to the Universal Office, 1600 Broadway—(N. Y. Daily.)

Four star varsity athletes and five freshman football stars were counted among the 90 students who were dismissed from Stanford University on account of poor grades.

Students at Bucknell University, Lewisburg, Pa., are offered a prize of $250 by the Silveride Chemical Company for the best name given to a throat lozenge. A prize of $50 is offered for the second best name.

Some Dartmouth College undergraduates are being given the opportunity of taking part in the moving picture production "Backbone," which will be taken from a story that ran in the Saturday Evening Post. The students will play the parts of woodmen and lumberjacks.

Much interest was shown in the song contest announced at Allegheny College before Christmas holidays. Five new songs were submitted to Mr. Chase Gage. The student body will sing them from time to time in chapel, and the final vote will be taken about February 21 by the student body, at which time the much coveted prize of $25 will be awarded to the winner.

The students at Lehigh are trying to carry out a novel plan. A certain week-end is to be set aside on which each man will have his father or guardian at college for a few days. The period will be set at a time when several athletic events are scheduled in addition to a musical entertainment. The students desire their fathers to learn a little more about the colleges.

G. W. STANDS THIRD IN INTERCOLLEGIATE MATCH

Rifle Team to Meet Georgetown in Dual Match Soon.

The National Rifle Association has announced that its intercollegiate championship match has been won by Georgetown, with Iowa second, George Washington third, and University of Pennsylvania fourth. The work of the G. W. shooters in the match was most excellent in view of the fact that they were able to get practically no preliminary practice. The team is now rounding into its real form, and is bending every effort toward defeating the Georgetown riflemen in a dual match to be fired on the Hilltopper's range at an early date.

Georgetown's shooters did some remarkable shooting to gain first place honors, and are deserving of all the credit they are receiving.

During the present week G. W. riflemen have turned in a high score in the first of the three matches of the Intercollegiate Rifle Association. With the team shooting as it now is, it is expected to make a strong bid for first place honors in this event. The scores for the first match, fired in the prone and sitting positions, are as follows:

	Sit.	Prone.	Total.
Stokes	100	100	200
Smith	100	100	200
Everett	100	99	199
Trimble	99	100	199

W. U. C. KID PARTY WINS.

Another party was staged at the W. U. C. rooms last Thursday, March 8th. It took the form of a "Kids' Party," and such a good time everyone seemed to have. Games, such as "Going to Jerusalem," "Farmer in the Dell," "Ring Around a Rosy," and the "Virginia Reel," were played. Refreshments that were simple enough for all "little children," as lolly pops and popcorn balls, tasted especially good. An added attraction was Easter egg hunt. All the girls came dressed up, some as boys, because when it came time to dance the ladies needed partners, so that there might be a real thrill. One of the greatest surprises was to see a West Pointer enter the midst, and as usual, a uniform proved to be very popular.

FAY'S ALLEGATIONS REFUTED

Fay King, gripe artist extraordinary for the Washington Times, had a pert little article in Tuesday's issue on the lack of realism in theater productions. She mourned the loss of those little actualities that could be discovered when one used a field glass or a telescope. She lamented the passing of the real, honest-to-goodness books, the photos that were photos, the notes written in carrying out the deadly scenes, and she spoke of the old-time cherry trees that used to drop a petal or two every time a stage hand walked back stage. "Now," said she, "all is different. Once out in the West, when men were men, the stages were too small to fit the plays. Now the plays are too small to fit the stages."

We don't know where Fay lives; New York or Kennebunk, but if she thought that the stage had lost all its realism, she should have seen the Junior Play last Saturday night. Why, it reeked with realism!

To begin with, there was the stage. If Fay likes small stages she would have fallen in love with that one. It was so small that the carpenters had to move the seats back and build out enough in front to make the room big enough to walk in. Then there wasn't enough room to spike down the seats and they had to be tied. That's the small stage stuff, is it not? And when a stage hand or a too-excited actor walked back stage the actors cheered up because they thought the audience was applauding!

David, the handsome lawyer, used real ice in his first scene; Bill Becker still has a sore heel from walking around to find it. And the fan he played with was real, too; we heard it whiz when we put our hand near it. And the laundry was real, because it was ours!

Then when George wrote Elise that note on the balance sheet, it was real. Dot Barley took it home with her by mistake. The grease paint was the real thing, for even Dean Wilbur noticed that; and our eyebrows haven't washed off yet. And the books were economics and Spanish, and what could be more realistic?

There was only one flaw, and that was so small it wasn't noticed. But we must tell the truth. That gardenia which caused Austin so much trouble and George so much distress was really a carnation. The director couldn't find a real one that wasn't too expensive for his meagre purse.

So we think we have refuted the lady. Not that we had any malice or anything like that. No, no, no! But we wanted to point out to G. W. students that if they saw the play, they saw the real thing, and if they didn't, they missed the real thing. But they have another chance yet. The play will be repeated, and then they may be assured that not only the acting and the directing and the stage hands and fittings and the scenery will be real, but that the gardenia will be a sure enough, honest-to-Peter gardenia. And that's a promise!

ANNUAL ART PRIZES NOW OPEN FOR COMPETITION

The Genevieve Chatterton McCutcheon Art prizes, which are offered annually to students of George Washington registered for a degree, are now open for competition. Cash prizes of $25 and $15 will be given to the writers of the two best essays on any art subject with reference to contemporary literature, music, history, or drama.

All graduate and undergraduate students, who are registered for a degree, are urged by Miss Brigham to compete. Essays of contestants must be given to Dr. Carroll or Miss Brigham by May 1.

PROMISES BIG HATCHET DANCE IN NEAR FUTURE

The third big successful "Hatchet" dance will be held sometime during Easter week at one of G. W. U.'s Frat houses. The price for admission will be $1.50 per couple. The music has not yet been selected, but everyone may be assured that it will be of the best. And of course refreshments will be served.

Robert M. Bolton, editor of "The Hatchet," says "The Hatchet staff is deeply indebted to the Student Body of G. W. for their ardent support of The Hatchet social functions." "I extend a cordial invitation to all members of the school to attend the Easter Dance of The University Hatchet."

ALBERT HARRIS SELECTED ARCHITECT FOR BUILDING

Plans Will Include Assembly Hall as Well as Class Rooms.

The architect who is to be entrusted with the drawing up of plans for the new $250,000 building soon to be erected, has been chosen. He is Albert L. Harris, B. S. in Arch., '12, and professor of architecture in this University. Mr. Harris announces that he has already made considerable progress on the plans.

The new building is to be much more elaborate than anything now belonging to the University, and is expected to satisfy many long standing needs. The assembly hall, which will occupy much of the first floor, will be of a size suitable for such gatherings as the smaller convocations, dramatic presentations, and meetings of student organizations. The second and third floors are to contain up-to-date classrooms, and the fourth is to be the architectural headquarters. The whole will accommodate about seven hundred people.

Excavations are expected to start in the near future, beginning on the north side of the present building and continuing as long as possible before any of the classes in the present building are dismissed.

DR. KERR WILL ADDRESS G. W. MEDICAL SOCIETY

Dr. Harry Kerr will give a short address on brain abscesses at a meeting of the George Washington Medical Society, to be held in Hall of the Medical School tomorrow night at 8 o'clock.

Another speaker of the evening will be Dr. Harry Bernton, who will discuss hay fever and its effect on the human system. There will be a smoker following the scientific program.

SIX WEEKS SUMMER COURSES.

The six weeks summer school session begins June 25, and closes August 4. Tuition will be six dollars a semester hour credit. Dean Ruediger, dean of the summer school, announces that the instructors will be the same as for the winter session.

PI DELTA EPSILON NAMES OFFICERS FOR NEXT YEAR

William Ballinger Elected President—
Francis W. Brown Initiated.

William Ballinger was elected president of Pi Delta Epsilon for next year at the meeting of the chapter Tuesday evening, March 13. The other officers named were vice president, Hilory Tolson; secretary, C. Melville Walker; treasurer, Daniel B. Lloyd. Howard H. Martin, editor of the Hatchet in 1917, and in charge of the most recent edition of the Razz Berry, was elected alumni advisor.

Francis W. Brown, who has been sporting editor of the Hatchet for the past two years, was initiated at the same meeting.

Favorable reports from the committee on the Razz Berry were read. Plans for the rest of the year and next season were discussed.

FRESHMAN GIRL HOLDS SCHOLARSHIP RECORD

Eleanor Dobson, the only girl in Columbian College to make the enviable record of six "A's" in as many subjects, is a freshman and graduate of Central High School. In high school last year she held the position of editor-in-chief of the school publication, "The Review," and succeeded in winning the Kendall scholarship to this University, from thirty contestants.

The subjects she is taking this year are far from being easy, as any of her fellow classmates will testify. Her "A's" are in Political Science, Math. History, French literature, English. Rhetoric, and Economics.

GOODIEL AND NATTA TIE
IN R. O. T. C. CONTEST

Carlton Goodiel and Paul Van Natta were returned winners in the essay contest staged by Major Jones, conducting the R. O. T. C. for first-year medical men. The subject of the essay for which all first-year men, members of the R. O. T. C. unit, wrote upon was "The Organization and Function of the Medical Department in Campaign." The prize of $5 was split between the two winners.

HOURLY GLASS ELECTS

Hour Glass, the new honor society for girls, announces the election of Beatrice Henning, Maxine Rolle, Caroline Peterson, Isabel Benton, Elizabeth Chickering, Margurite Daily, Theresa Lawrence, June Cooper, Mary Quick, and Asmath Johnson.

This society requires an average of 85 per cent in scholarship, 45 hours work at the University, as well as meritorious work in student activities.

THE OLDEST ALUMNUS

Ever since Senator Cornelius Cole of the class of 1847, of Wesleyan, made his pilgrimage across the continent from Los Angeles to Middletown to be present at the seventy-fifth anniversary of his class, the colleges of the country have been drawing attention to their oldest alumni.

Our oldest alumnus at present seems, from information at the University, to be Mr. George Whitfield, who was graduated from Columbian College on July 16, 1851, and is now living in Pocatong, Miss. Mr. Whitfield is now 72 years of age.

"The Story of Copper" by Watson Davis, B. S. in C. E. '18, C. E. '20, is shortly to be published by the Century Company.

Edward Nelson Dingley, LL. B. '85, is the author of "Unto the Hills," recently published by the Stratford Company, Boston. The book deals with some of America's economic problems, in plain and popular language, and from the viewpoint of national, moral, and spiritual development.

General Rufus Lane, LL. B. '95, has recently been appointed Adjutant General and Inspector of the United States Marine Corps.

H. H. Glassie, a student in the law school, 1893 to 1895, has recently been appointed a member of the Tariff Commission.

John E. Walker, LL. B. '16, is now engaged in the general practice of law with offices in the Albee Building, Washington.

Leslie H. Adams, A. B. '19, LL. B. '22, is now with the law firm of Almy, Van Gordon and Evans in New York City.

GIRLS' TEAM COMPETES IN BIG RIFLE MATCH

The girls rifle team of George Washington University was the only girls' team entered in the intercollegiate four position rifle match. Thirty-two universities and colleges competed.

Matches have been scheduled with Cornell, Syracuse, and the Australian Women's rifle team. A return match will be shot in the near future with Maryland State.

Although a rifle team for girls is a new thing at George Washington, much interest has been shown in the sport. All girls who are interested should watch the bulletin board for announcements and come out for practice.

THE WANDERING GREEKS TO DINE

Prof. John Bromberg has been invited to speak at the Wandering Greeks dinner to-night. The dinner is scheduled for 7.00 p. m., at the Cafe Louise, Eighteenth and H Streets N. W. These dinners are to be weekly affairs and all Wandering Greeks are invited to attend.

LAMBDA PHI MU INITIATES

Recently Lambda Phi Mu medical Fraternity held an initiation service and banquet and took in the following men: Joseph Bono, Peter A. Fauci, Michael Aria, James A. Ferrara, Valentino Caso, Joseph J. Drago, Anthony Erlano.

Lambda Phi Mu is one of the oldest fraternities in the world, having been founded in Italy in 1701. Last year George Washington was fortunate enough to secure a chapter, one of the first in this country. There are chapters in nearly every country in Europe and in other continents.

MASONS WILL DANCE

Again! We take great pleasure in stating that the tickets for the Masonic Club Dance on next Tuesday are going fast. It therefore behooves all lovers of the dance and good music to hie themselves to some of the many custodians of the little pasteboards for this grand and glorious affair. Remember, the day, Tuesday, March 20, the place, Meridian Mansions (better known as 2400 Sixteenth Street), the music, Meyer Davis. 'Nough Sed!

GAMMA ETA ZETA PLEDGES

Gamma Eta Zeta, the Women's Journalistic Fraternity of George Washington University, has announced its pledges. The girls who have been thus honored are Marian Barker, Geraldine Barlow, Sarah French Smith, Mildred Wilgus, Myrtle Yost, Lois Gates Gorman, Frances Randolph, Celeste Weyl, Marie O'Dea, and Louise Espey.

The purpose of the sorority is to encourage the girl students of the University to take part in the journalistic activities of the school. Those girls who are soon to be initiated into the organization have been chosen with the purpose of recognizing such interest in publications.

STUDENT COUNCIL TO MEET.

The next regular meeting of the Student Council will be held Tuesday evening, March 20, 1923, in Lisner Hall, at 8 p. m. All members are urged to be present, as there is some very important business to be taken up.

PYRAMID STANDS FOR COMPULSORY STUDENT TAX

Aggressive Policy of Administration
Commended—Banquet Planned
For April 9.

The Pyramid Honor Society held a meeting at the Law School last Sunday morning, when a quorum of its active members and a number of its honorary faculty members discussed points of interest to the University as a whole. The attitude of the society toward the compulsory tax was clearly brought out as standing behind the positive policy of the society in regard to the tax outlined earlier in the year. The discussion served rather to strengthen the decision of the society for the necessity of such a tax, and the close analysis of the problem by the members of the faculty present served merely to mellow it to a basis of practicability.

The progress made in the welfare of the University under the definite and aggressive policy of President Hodgkins was mentioned with admiration, and the expectation of great strides to be made in the future under his administration expressed.

A former member of the society, Herbert Ramsay, was voted a send-off gift upon his departure this week for China as a medical missionary.

A number of eligible candidates for the spring election of new members was nominated and will be voted upon at the next meeting of Pyramid.

Plans were discussed for the annual banquet to be held by Pyramid on Monday night, April 9, at which a grand reunion of past and present members of the society is expected, together with the initiation of new members at that time.

SIGMA TAU PLANS DINNER

Sigma Tau, Honorary Engineering Fraternity, at a meeting Wednesday night, March 7, elected officers for the coming year, as follows: President, Robert Brauner; vice president, Joseph H. Lapish; recording secretary, Lawrence K. Hyde; corresponding secretary, Daniel B. Lloyd; historian, John Elsing; treasurer, Robert Wendt.

The date for the annual banquet was set for April 18. President Hodgkins and Dean Miller will be present at the banquet and the new officers will be installed.

Much enthusiasm is being shown in this annual celebration of the chapter, and plans are being made to make it the biggest affair ever given by Sigma Tau.

The next meeting will be held on March 21.
